COMMUNITY INVITED TO PROVIDE INPUT INTO GALT EXHIBITS

FREE ADMISSION TO THOSE PARTICIPATING IN SURVEY THIS WEEKEND

On Saturday, March 1 and Sunday March 2, from 10:00 to 4:30, visitors to the Galt Museum & Archives who participate in a hands-on survey rating twenty possible temporary exhibits will be given free admission to the Discovery Hall.

The Galt values the people in communities across southwestern Alberta and wishes to provide exhibits that will intrigue and engage new and returning visitors. With this in mind, Museum staff has compiled the potential exhibit list and is now seeking community feedback.

Survey participants will be asked to place 11 cards describing potential exhibits developed in-house – using the Galt's resources – in order of preference, and to repeat this process for 9 cards describing travelling exhibits developed by Canadian museums. Museum staff, assisted by volunteers from 12:00 to 2:30 pm on both days, will record the rankings.

To date, opinions have been given by students and staff at the University of Lethbridge, visitors at the Lethbridge Regional Hospital, as well as those attending the Blackfoot Canadian Peace Powwow and recent political forums. Additional input will be sought from local Scouts, tourism and business professionals, and students and staff at Red Crow Community College before the survey closes on March 16.

Those who would like to participate but are unable to stop in this weekend can do so online from March 5-16 at www.galtmuseum.com. Community feedback will guide the final choices for the 2010-12 temporary exhibit schedule.
